

June 2026: A Notebook with lined sticky notes

Despite it being yet another record breaking hottest day last Friday, a hardy band of Crafters armed with water bottles, mini fans and damp flannels met to make a very useful lined sticky notebook with an elastic fastening. Mercifully, after having to get up and choose our papers, the rest of the afternoon was spent in a more sedentary fashion, measuring, cutting and gluing! Some bits were a little fiddly but in the end we all produced some beautiful notebooks, each very different as there was such a large choice of decorative papers. Some even went the extra mile and worked out how to add a pencil holder onto the side!
